Message from the Editors

The College is celebrating its 30th anniversary this year. In this newsletter, members will read about a series of events and activities, including the Annual General Meeting, the Annual Scientific Meeting, the Talent Show Competition, and the College's Plant and Garden. Please mark your diary and join us!

President's Message

As the keenly awaited Tokyo Olympic Games are broadcast live, we share the vigour and thrills of the contests at home with family and friends and probably if only for brief periods, even at work, when circumstances really allow, with colleagues in the staff rooms! Hundreds of excited citizens chanted their encouragement and showcased total support to the Hong Kong Team in eateries and shopping malls, regardless whether the Hong Kong scores are leading or falling behind. The athletes' longstanding hardship with unending practices and monotonous drills, and the intermingling of the occasional satisfying moments from a new personal record or overcoming a demanding skill and times of loneliness or self-doubt have not deterred them from reaching their dream and goal – to be an Olympian. As paediatricians, we are particularly touched watching these young people on the big world stage. Inspired and humbled, we learn from their sportsmanship, their stamina and their honesty to follow their hearts.

Despite its abrupt arrival almost two years ago and the availability of effective and safe vaccines, COVID-19 remains the core challenge of health services and medical research, especially with the emergence of increasingly transmissible and evasive viral mutants. Even in privileged parts of the world, vaccination rates while improving over the recent months, has remained uneven. In many cities, social restrictions could still only be eased intermittently, and the world economy has stagnated. Our College continues to be deeply concerned about the adverse impacts of not only COVID-19, but also the infection control measures necessary to contain the spread of the pandemic. Our children have suffered both mentally and physically from the social distancing and prolonged school suspensions. With the tremendous expert assistance and dedication from our Paediatric Immunology, Allergy and Infectious Diseases (PIAID) colleagues, our College jointly with The Hong Kong Society for PIAID and The Hong Kong Paediatric Society on 10 May 2021 issued an appeal to adults in stable health to receive COVID-19 vaccination. This would not only protect themselves, but also members of their household including children who are not eligible for vaccination. Dr Mike Kwan, Dr Patrick Ip and myself represented College at a media interview hosted by the Hong Kong Academy of Medicine to present the above themes in early June. It was extensively covered in the local media and followed by a series of interviews on air, enhancing awareness in the Hong Kong community about the COVID-19 disease, its impact and the preventive strategies in children and adolescents.

On 3 June 2021, the Secretary for Food and Health announced lowering the age-limit for the COVID-19 (Comirnaty) vaccination from 16 to 12 years. In view of the high prevalence of allergic conditions in our youngsters and the concerns from parents, adolescents and clinicians regarding the safety and efficacy of the vaccine and whether adolescents with allergic conditions were medically suitable for vaccination, there was an urgent need for good quality information from authoritative experts. Fortuitously, our Vice-President Professor Leung Ting Fan is one of the leading paediatric allergy experts in Hong Kong, and together with our HKSPIAID colleagues expediently and arduously drafted a Joint Position Statement on Allergies and Adolescent COVID-19 Vaccination. This authoritative and evidence-based document was issued on 15 June as a timely expert reference for fellow paediatricians and other practitioners to prepare them for when they are consulted on this matter. The Hong Kong adolescent COVID-19 vaccination programme was commenced on 14 June.

A 14-minute educational video on adolescent COVID-19 vaccination in both Cantonese and English was also produced, fully funded by the Hong Kong College of Paediatricians Foundation. The comprehensive scripts were written by our PIAID experts and the actors comprised both relatively senior and enthusiastic, talented young paediatricians.

A series of five College webinars targeted at school staff, students and parents were conducted during 2 July to 9 July. Again, our PIAID experts constituted the panels, presented scientific facts and explanation of the COVID-19 (Comirnaty) vaccine in relation to adolescents and answered questions from the audience.

If you missed and are interested to review any of these excellent COVID-19 related materials, you may look no further than the COVID-19 Corner of the College website. We have placed all our COVID-19 related education materials and documents in this section. I firmly believe you will join the College Council to sincerely thank our PIAID colleagues for everything they have contributed to support College in these endeavours to improve child health and for the benefits of our community.

Since my message in April about the College's 30th Anniversary, I am very pleased to update you that the Anniversary Celebration Organising Committee under Professor Leung, our Vice-President's able and resourceful leadership, supported by the Professional and General Affairs Committee chaired by Dr Ng Chi Hang has deliberated an exciting and fully-fledged celebration programme that you will find more details of in this issue of the Newsletter. After such a long period of social distancing, we hope that our celebratory activities will be able to connect us all again, not only in academic learning, but also in fellowship. I am extending to you my warm welcome and genuine invitation: PLEASE COME JOIN US TO CONNECT, LEARN AND HAVE FUN! Your participation will ensure the greatest success of our 30th Anniversary. I look forward to celebrating with you and your beloved ones!

30th Annual General Meeting on 4 December 2021

We are pleased to announce that the 30th Annual General Meeting (AGM) of the College will be held on 4 December 2021 (Saturday). As we know, this is the biggest College event every year.

Following suit is the conferment of Fellowships, certificate presentation to Subspecialty Fellows of Paediatric Immunology, Allergy & Infectious Diseases (PIAID), Paediatrics Neurology (PN) and Paediatric Respiratory Medicine (PRM), as well as the welcome to New Members and New Associates. The Ceremony is always well attended by officials of the HKAM, Sister Colleges, notables from the medical and health profession and statutory organizations. It is a solemn but touching moment for all present.

The first day of The Hong Kong College of Paediatricians 30th Anniversary Scientific Meeting will be held immediately preceding the AGM and Conferment Ceremony. More details about the Scientific Meeting will be announced in the next College Newsletter. Please stay tuned.

So, please be sure to mark on your diary this date, 4-5 December, and be kept in tune with further announcements!

Education Committee

2021 Annual Scientific Meeting

Please also mark your diary for attending the whole event of the 30th Anniversary Scientific Meeting of our College in the afternoon of 4–5 December 2021 (Saturday & Sunday). The first day cum HM Lui Memorial Fund 20th Anniversary Symposium will be held in a hybrid mode at the HK Academy of Medicine Building, immediately preceding the College AGM. The second day will be on online mode. Further details will be announced in the next issue of the Newsletter.

Hong Kong Neonatal Resuscitation Program (HK-NRP)

NRP is now available for colleagues from private hospitals starting from September 2021. For details, please see Appendix I or refer to:

Scientific & Research Subcommittee

2021 Best Young Investigator Prize

To encourage research by colleagues, the Best Young Investigator Prize was created in 2015 to be awarded annually to the best paper published between 1st July of previous year and 30th June of the awarding year.

Eligibility

Entry into the Best Young Investigator Prize competition is voluntary.

Applicants must be members of the Hong Kong College of Paediatricians (including Associate Members, Members and Fellows) AND aged 46 years or under as at 30th June 2021.

The papers should be published in peer-reviewed print or electronic journals, and written in English or translated into English if they are written in languages other than English.

Only the first author or corresponding author is eligible to apply. One paper is eligible for only one submission, and each paper will be allowed to compete for only one prize.

If the paper has previously been awarded the Best Dissertation Prize of the College prior to publication, it will not be eligible for the Best Young Investigator Prize and vice versa.

The decision of the assessment panel will be final.

Submission

Submission deadline for the year 2020 Prize is 31st August 2021. Interested colleagues can email their papers (PDF or MS Word format) together with the Application Form (Appendix II) to the College Secretariat (enquiry@paediatrician.org.hk) on or before 31st August 2021.

The Best Young Investigator Prize will include a cash reward of HK$5,000 and will be presented during the College 30th Anniversary Annual Dinner in December 2021.

House Committee

We are pleased to let you know College has subscribed a Planter in June 2021 by joining the “Friends of Academy Gardening Corner Programme” which has been set up as an initiative to connect Fellows, specialist trainees, medical professionals and College Secretaries through growing plants together at the Academy and promote health lifestyle. The Corner is located on 3/F of HKAM. As supported by the House Committee, the Secretariat would like to share our farming enjoyment with all the College Members through a couple of nice pictures at our recent coaching sessions. College Members are most welcome to visit the College’s Plant and Garden when you have chance to come to the Academy.
